Napoleon Perdis Powder Brush PD I

This soft, fluffy brush gently applies a soft veil of powder to the skin. The slim, domed-shape flows around the curves of the face for a precise finish. Perfect for loose or pressed translucent powder and luminizer or highlighter. $55

Eye Brush E2

This short, firm brush smudges and blends harsh edges of eyeshadow like a breeze. Use to smudge pencil or gel eyeliners along the lash line, highlight under the brow or smudge out the lip line for a diffused finish. Can be incredibly precise for contouring the nose and under the lower lip. $38

Cheek Brush CHI

A small blush brush great for applying highlight to the cheekbones and washing concealer, powder or eyeshadow all over the eyes. For a serious cheek contour, this brush fits snugly under the cheekbone to precisely carve and cut. $36

With only a few weeks until Spring (yay!), now is the time to prepare yourself for the allergy season. If you suffer from seasonal rhinitis or allergies, we recommend you start implementing steps now to help reduce the overall severity.

Our pharmacists and staff are happy to help you find the right products to suit your symptoms.

Our Catalogue runs from 18th August–9th September. Purchase any item from the catalogue and enter online to WIN a SMEG Retro Stand Mixer valued at $699

Healthy regards,

Brendon, Emma & Justine

Food and heart health myths.....busted! Myth– Sugar is toxic for heart health?

Sugar in food or drinks can be naturally occurring or added during processing. Sugar has been under attack with some people trying to eliminate it from their diets. There's no consensus that sugar as a nutrient causes heart disease. There is scientific agreement that high intake of added sugars and refined carbohydrates do increase your risk of heart disease. We are all aware that too much sugar can increase the amount of energy you consume and may lead to weight gain, which is a risk factor for heart disease.

Can sugar be part of a healthy diet? Your whole diet matters, not one single nutrient like sugar. In Australian diets the bulk of added sugars come from junk food, especially sugary drinks. Avoid or severely limit these foods and drinks as part of your healthy heart diet.
